

WHEN LIFE HAPPENS...

WHO WILL SEE YOUR STUDENTS?

WHO WILL LISTEN?

WHO WILL HELP THEM FIND A WAY FORWARD?

Sometimes a student knows they need help.
Sometimes they only know that something feels wrong.
And sometimes they quietly struggle, unsure whether their concern matters—or whether anyone will care.

Geneura.AI™ through Lythous™ — The Human Front Door gives them somewhere human to begin.

Someone who listens. Someone who sees the person behind the problem. Someone who helps connect the pieces and follows through.

KEEP WHAT YOU HAVE. CONNECT WHAT STUDENTS NEED.

We do not replace your counseling center, health services, academic advisors, wellness programs, or other campus resources. We add the human connection that helps students find and use them.

Through our connected care model, we help students navigate the support you already provide and connect with appropriate healthcare and community resources when additional help is needed.

Students don't need to know which office to contact—or which category their concern fits into—before starting a conversation.

HUMAN CONNECTION THAT SUPPORTS STUDENT RETENTION.

When life challenges interrupt education, finding support can help students stay connected, remain engaged, and continue toward graduation.

Our university program is designed to support that journey. Together, we can measure connections to care, student experience, and the program's contribution to persistence and retention.

GIVE YOUR UNIVERSITY A DISTINCTIVE HUMAN PROMISE.

Build on your existing investment with a real human starting point: someone who listens, helps students navigate support, and follows through.

CREATE PATHWAYS FROM STUDENT TO LEADER.

Build opportunities for students to become Lythous ambassadors, gain experience through internships, and develop the skills to help operate future Lythous locations.

A place to receive support.

A chance to contribute.

A pathway to meaningful work.
